Chitkara College of Education takes pride in successfully conducting day 1 of virtual "INTERNATIONAL FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM" on "HOW TO WRITE A RESEARCH PAPER". The resource persons for the same were Dr. Shivani Inder, Associate Professor, Chitkara Business School, Chitkara University, Punjab and Dr. Kumar Shalender, Associate Professor, Chitkara Business School, Chitkara University, Punjab who are highly experienced in the field of Research. We had participants from across the globe who are highly educated and showed keen interest in learning about writing a research paper. The program was interesting, interactive and of immense enlightening experience which surely have inculcated a research mindset among all. We are also very grateful to Dr. Sandhir Sharma, Dean, CBS for agreeing to spare their most experience and learned faculty for this FDP and providing continuous support. We look forward to more learning in the next 4 days of the Faculty Development Program.

Chitkara College of Education successfully conducted day 2 of the virtual "INTERNATIONAL FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM" on "HOW TO WRITE A RESEARCH PAPER". The resource persons for the same were Dr. Shivani Inder, Associate Professor, Chitkara Business School, Chitkara University, Punjab and Dr. Kumar Shalender, Associate Professor, Chitkara Business School, Chitkara University, Punjab who are highly experienced in the field of Research. We had highly educated participants from across the globe who are excited in learning about writing a research paper. Everyone eagerly learnt about scale development and framed research statements too. Day 2 of the program was of immense learning experience. We look forward to more learning in the next 3 days of the Faculty Development Program.

Chitkara College of Education successfully conducted day 3 of the virtual "INTERNATIONAL FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM" on "HOW TO WRITE A RESEARCH PAPER". The resource persons for the same were Dr. Shivani Inder, Associate Professor, Chitkara Business School, Chitkara University, Punjab and Dr. Kumar Shalender, Associate Professor, Chitkara Business School, Chitkara University, Punjab who are highly experienced in the field of Research. We are pleased to have more participants and learning from this FDP about an in-depth knowledge of research. Everyone was attentive and learnt about scale development, operational definitions, creation of item pool, different types of variables, reliability, validity, concept versus construct, content validation, sampling, data collection and its requirements, data analysis and many more. Like the first two days, day3 of the program was highly beneficial and an extensive learning experience. We are also getting excellent feedback about the resource persons and the program.

The Day 4 started with the resource person, Dr. Shivani Inder, explaining the constructs and items. She also enunciated the different types of construct and the relationship between them. She also focused on references and the format to write the references. She demonstrated the JASP software wherein all the participants got actively engaged. She apprised the participants about the way items constructed are related, the parameters and their meaning including Strongly Disagree, Disagree, Neutral, Agree, Strongly Agree. Variance was also the point of discussion by the resource person and the way the data needs to be presented. The session was concluded by a Q/A session.
