(57) Abstract :

A system (100) and a method (200) for cross-cloud security authentication is provided. The system (100) is based on identification, addressing the challenges faced by users in managing multiple login credentials for various cloud services. The system (100) ensures secure access to cloud services while simplifying the user experience. The system (100) enhances security by reducing the risk of unauthorized access and data breaches. The system (100) streamlines the authentication process, saving users time and effort. Additionally, the invention addresses authentication interoperability issues across different cloud service providers. With its focus on security, efficiency, and user-friendliness, the system (100) provides a comprehensive solution for secure access to cloud services.
