(57) Abstract :

A multipurpose slidable hook hanging apparatus (100) for organizing various items on a wall or other suitable surface is disclosed. The hanging apparatus (100) includes a wall-mountable base plate (102) as the primary supporting structure, and a set of hooks (104) to hold various items such as clothes, utensils, and other hanging materials. The set of hooks attached to the base plate with a ball-shaped joint (108) to allow 360-degree rotation and also in a detachable manner for customization. The hanging apparatus also contains the locking unit (106) with the set of hooks to enable user to fix the rotational position of each hook for added stability.
