(57) Abstract :
 ABSTRACT The present invention relates to a herbal tea blend composition. The composition includes mint leaves, lemon zest, fennel seeds, green cardamom, black pepper, orange zest, and tea leaves as the primary active ingredients, which provide digestive support, antioxidant properties, immune-boosting effects, and potential kidney stone prevention, respectively. The tea blend is formulated to be free from artificial preservatives, flavors, and sweeteners, ensuring a natural and wholesome product. The blend is prepared by carefully drying, grinding, and blending the ingredients in specified proportions, followed by packaging in airtight containers to maintain freshness and potency. The formulation is designed to support overall health through a convenient and effective natural remedy. Dated this 21st Day of August, 2024
